ABOUT MARKETING 365

Introducing Marketing 365 -- our complimentary, full-service marketing support program that is designed to enhance your event participation and demonstrate your expertise.

Marketing 365 acts as an extension of your marketing team. In the build-up to our summit [of which you are a sponsor], our program will help increase your brand awareness to our attending audience, generate new inbound traffic for your company, and maximize your onsite experience as a whole.

HOW IT WORKS

Once you've secured a sponsorship deal with Generis (that qualifies for our Marketing 365 program), our marketing team will reach out and connect with you on the next steps.

Marketing 365 is flexible and based on your company's unique business challenges. Work closely with our team to define your marketing needs, and through our countless offerings -- from original content pieces to mass content shares -- we will do everything we can to help achieve your goals.

■ THE BENEFITS

Why leverage our complimentary, full-service marketing support program? Through participating in Marketing 365, you will be able to:

- ✓ Strengthen your position as an industry leader
- ✓ Increase engagement and visibility among our executive audience
- ✓ Generate new inbound traffic
- ✓ Encourage lead generation
- ✓ Build brand awareness
- ✓ Guarantee more mutual matches with your 1-2-1 meeting selection

THE POSSIBILITIES

- PROMOTIONAL GRAPHICS
- CONTENT SHARES
- E-BOOKS
- INFOGRAPHICS
- BLOGS
- NEWSLETTER FEATURES
- WISH LIST ACQUISITION
- VIP CLIENT PASSES

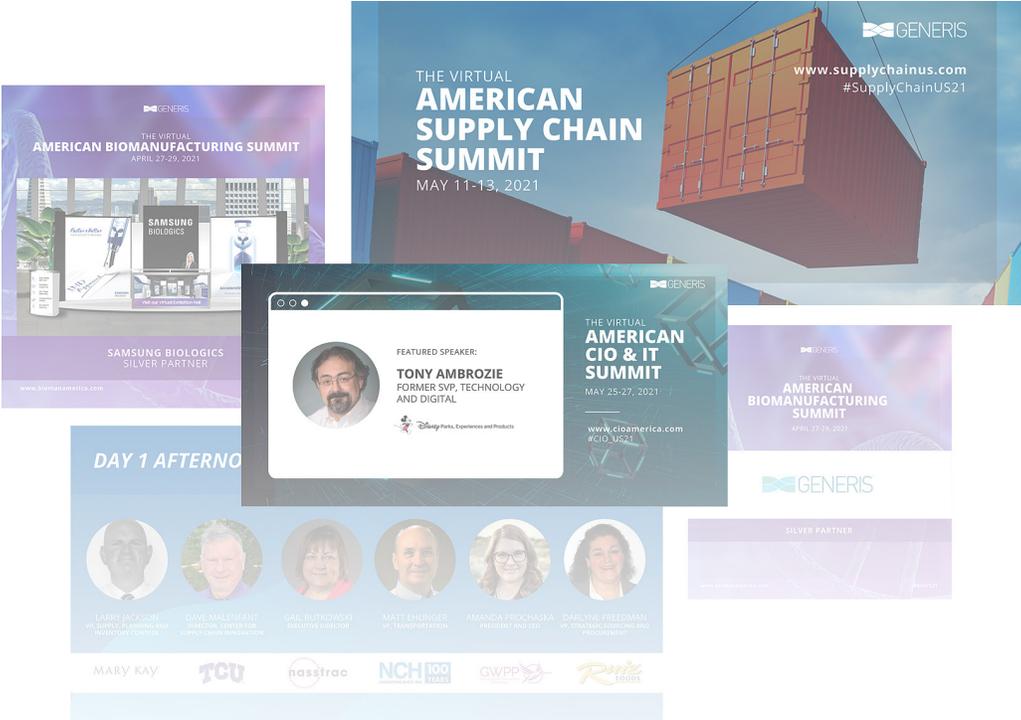

Would you like to pursue a marketing opportunity that isn't featured on this list? Share your ideas with us and we can work to make it happen.

PROMOTIONAL GRAPHICS

In terms of promotional graphics for the summit, we'd love to take care of the design work for you.

These would be graphics for your team to share on LinkedIn, Twitter, and so forth to help promote your industry leadership and announce to your network that you will be sponsoring the summit. We'd be happy to create personalized graphics featuring your logo, type of partnership, booth, and even your upcoming workshop or roundtable if you will be speaking at our event!

CONTENT SHARES

Does your company produce thought leadership content, including blog pieces, whitepapers, webinars, and so forth? Through our content sharing initiative, you'll be able to expand your mileage out of the existing content you generate.

We love promoting our sponsors and are proud to have you on board. In the build-up to your Generis summit, leverage this unique opportunity to share your content to a fresh new audience of executive leads, and increase brand awareness and web traffic for your company.

HOW IT WORKS

Work with our marketing team to determine which of your content pieces will be most relevant and enticing to our digital audience of CEOs, VPs, and Directors. Once these content pieces are determined, our Marketing team will provide a content share Schedule for your reference. We will then execute these engaging content shares — leading up to the summit — on our LinkedIn and Twitter channels.

Will you be producing content after the event? Let's keep the sharing going! Our Marketing 365 program doesn't necessarily end after your summit. You can benefit from continued content sharing and promotions as you sign up for our summits year after year.

Through our Content Share initiative, you will be able to expand your network, enhance engagement, and push potential leads to your site.

RECOMMENDED CONTENT

When it comes to promoting content to our executive audience, thought leadership pieces will always work best. This includes:

- WHITEPAPERS
- E-BOOKS
- INFOGRAPHICS
- CASE STUDIES
- WEBINARS
- HOW-TO-GUIDES
- BLOGS
- VIDEOS

ORIGINAL CONTENT PIECES

Ready to further elevate your position as a thought leader?

Our team would love to create a new original content piece for your business, whether it be an e-book, infographic, or blog. These original content pieces can cover any topic relevant to the summit you will be sponsoring, and even serve as a fantastic complimentary piece to your speaking session.

HOW IT WORKS

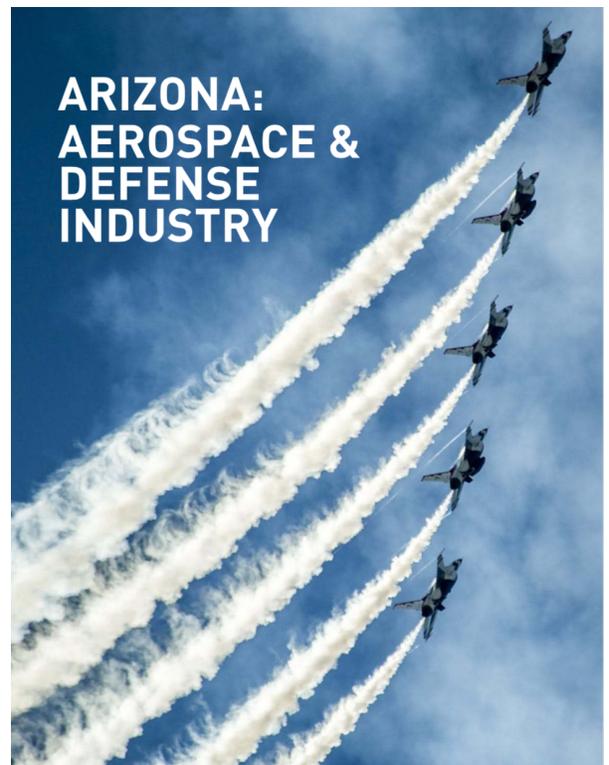

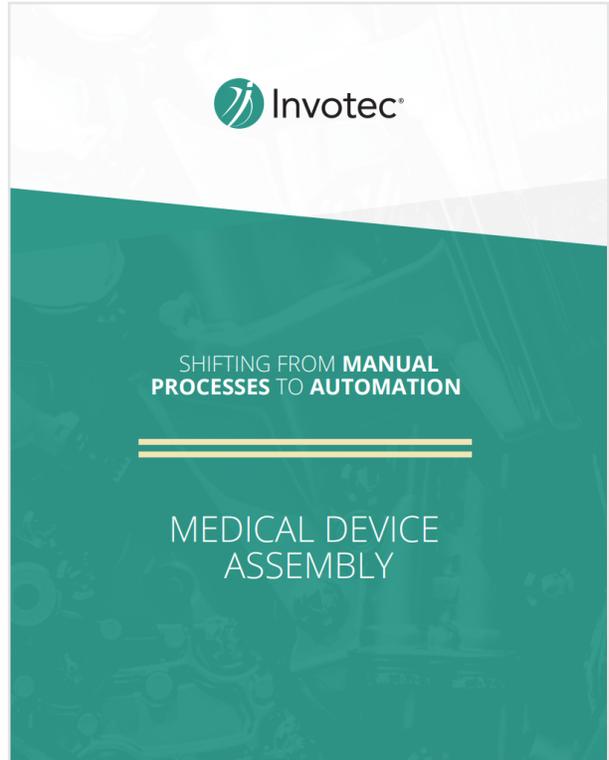

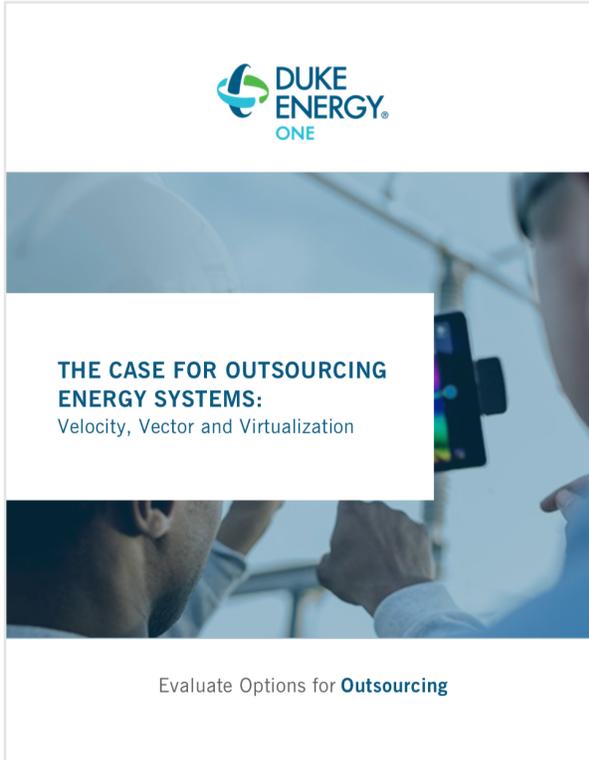

Our process often begins with a written Q&A. We'll draft a series of questions based on your topic, and your team would send over any information/responses to these questions as well as any brand guidelines. This is to ensure that all of the information in the content piece is entirely reflective of your business, thought leadership, and service offerings! From there, our team would take care of all of the copy-editing, then take on all of the design work in putting the original content piece together.

Alternatively, we can also refurbish your existing content and transform it into a fresh, new piece. For instance, we can create an infographic to complement a whitepaper or webinar your business produced in the past.

Once we complete your original content piece and have it approved by your team, we'll also promote the piece to our relevant audiences, to help increase your company's brand awareness!

E-BOOKS

Are you hosting a workshop presentation or roundtable discussion at one of our summits? We can get the conversation started prior to the event! Participate in a Q&A so that we can transform your expertise into thought-provoking content.

INFOGRAPHICS

Looking to turn your complex content pieces into straightforward infographics? With a visually-appealing layout and easy-to-read format, your content instantly becomes share-ready. Infographics can make a world of difference when it comes to how many people see, share, and read your content.

Is your company prepared for the future of Medical Device production?

We surveyed top executives in the Medical Device industry to determine the 2021 state of Medical Device Product Manufacturing.

50%

of the companies spend between 18-36 months to launch new products

When it comes to developing a product from concept or idea to market-ready, what is your company's average timeline?

What are your strategies to get your product to market quicker than your competitors?

Is your company part of this percentage?

In an ideal world, what would be the maximum amount of time spent on premarket regulatory preparation?

41%

of the companies spend between 6-12 months to prepare a premarket regulatory trail

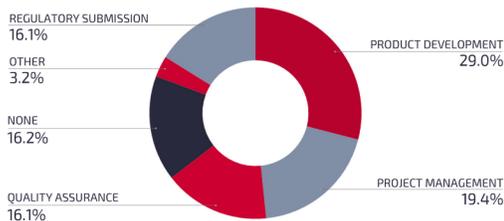

On top of that, nearly 30% of companies will require more than a day's work, per person.

35%

of the companies spend between 5-8 hours per person to prepare a design or gate review

Imagine getting that average number of hours down to less than five, resulting in more time dedicated to execution.

Which of the following areas are you looking to improve in the next 18 months?

WHAT TRACEABILITY CAN DO FOR YOU

Between 2003 and 2012, the annual number of recalls increased by

Major recall costs have been as high as $600 m

in the medical device industry

What if you could track medical devices from the manufacturing plant to the patient?

For medical device manufacturers, a traceability solution can:

- Increase inventory visibility throughout the supply chain
- Improve warehouse management
- Mitigate risk of reimbursement fraud
- Improve management of returnable devices
- Reduce risk of recalls
- Increase production efficiency by reducing setup time
- Block counterfeit and stolen products
- Track data to improve performance

For the medical profession, a traceability solution helps:

- Optimize the inventory control and management at the hospital
- Identify what medical devices are being used on patients
- The origin, quality and history of the devices that will be used or implanted in the body

OPTEL SOLUTIONS KEY BENEFITS

MASTERING PRODUCT COMPLAINT HANDLING IN THE MEDICAL DEVICE INDUSTRY

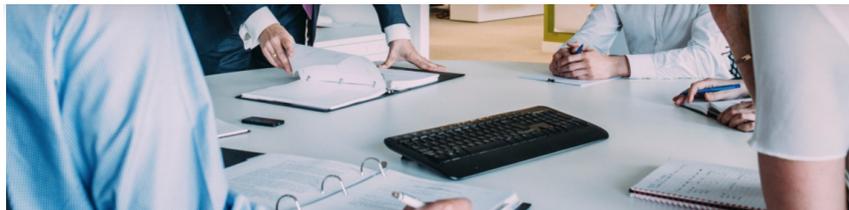

In medical device, Uncategorized by Trisha Armeña / November 11, 2020 / Leave a Comment

For medical device manufacturers across the globe, among their top priorities will inevitably include complaint handling. Continuous improvements in customer satisfaction, regulatory compliance, and the safety of consumers must remain top of mind.

In light of improving the complaint handling process and further emphasizing its importance, we sat down with Partha Marella (Executive Vice President of HCL Technologies), to obtain his insights and best practices.

QUALITY MATURITY FOR LIFE SCIENCES: Q&A WITH IQVIA

In Life sciences, medical device, quality by Jennifer Browne / July 24, 2019 / Leave a Comment

With pressures to drive down costs, remain compliant, and improve innovation and the safety of products, manufacturers across all industries are increasing their focus on quality management. Executives are relying on a variety of resources — across people, processes, and technology — to progress forward and achieve process excellence. But before a company begins an initiative related to improving quality maturity, it's important to understand the various phases of maturity and to define objectives for how to advance maturity from one phase to the next.

Ahead of the American Medical Device Summit, we spoke with Roxane Napoli, Associate Director of Product Marketing at IQVIA Quality Compliance, to discuss how organizations within the medical device space can progress forward and improve their quality management capabilities.

WISH LIST ACQUISITION

Looking to maximize your ROI at our summit, and ensure you connect with your target clients?

Through our client wish list initiative, we'll aim to bring in more of your targets for you to engage with at the summit.

HOW IT WORKS

If you have any specific target companies — or better yet, target individuals — that you would like to meet with onsite, we invite you to share your wish list with us. From there, our experienced delegate acquisition team will focus on bringing them onboard. The more information we receive, the better your chances of engaging with them onsite.

VIP CLIENT PASSES

If you're looking to strengthen your relationships with your clients and exercise your industry leadership, why not provide them with a VIP client pass?

As a valued sponsor, you'll also have the opportunity to extend discounted passes to your clients to attend the summit. Many of our sponsors like to notify their network about their participation, and this is an opportunity to do so while adding value through VIP passes at a discount.

HOW IT WORKS

After registering for the summit, we will provide you with a personalized VIP code that your clients can leverage upon registration. Depending on whether the event will be taking place virtually or in-person, this will grant your clients a 60% or 85% discount off of the regular rate of investment.

Any of your clients who would like to attend the summit, who are end-users with Manager, Director-level, or above titles and not other service providers or consultants, can use your VIP code.

In terms of distribution, you are welcome to privately send this to your clients who fit the criteria above, or alternatively, send us their contact details and we'll extend the invitations on your behalf!
